CENTRE FOR STUDY ABROAD

Welcome to the University of Bristol's outstanding Study Abroad experience.

The Centre for Study Abroad (CfSA) is home to all our short-term study programmes, both here in Bristol and abroad. Our global Study Abroad centre has a dedicated Academic Director – overseeing a range of pioneering study pathways linked to our world-class research, as well as personalised opportunities to help you gain relevant skills.

Beyond the University's outstanding facilities and reputation, the CfSA provides a caring environment where both your academic and personal ambitions are nurtured. You will enjoy excellent study support – one-to-one and with your classmates. Our Student Experience team will also keep you involved, with regular workshops, tours and social events.

For academic excellence, meaningful support and an authentic UK cultural experience, get ready for a warm Bristol welcome.

STUDY ABROAD PROGRAMMES

Bristol offers a highly flexible and personalised Study Abroad experience, with different programmes to suit your English language ability and a wide range of academic areas. Our programmes are available for a single semester or a full academic year.

Study Abroad (General pathway)

September and January start

You can choose units from across the University to create a personalised academic programme. You can take units in your major and minor, as well as other subjects that interest you. Our six faculties offer a wide variety of subjects, which can be combined to create a diverse and intellectually stimulating programme.

Study Abroad (Subject pathway)

September and January start

You will be nominated by your home university to a department at Bristol that best matches your current degree programme. You will take the majority of your units in your host department, with the option to take a small number of credits in other academic areas of interest, including our Centre for Academic Language and Development.

STABEL (Study Abroad with English Language)

September start

For students who don't currently meet the English language requirements for the Study Abroad (General pathway) or Study Abroad (Subject pathway), STABEL combines Study Abroad with a pre-session English language course starting in June or July. This intensive course can last from six to ten weeks, depending on your current English language level, designed to help you reach the required level to progress onto the Study Abroad (General pathway) or Study Abroad (Subject pathway) programme in September. You must pass the pre-session course in order to progress.

The most popular options for native English speakers, or those who already meet our English language requirements, are Study Abroad (General pathway) and Study Abroad (Subject pathway). If you already meet our English language requirements but want to enhance your English language skills for academic purposes, you can also take English language units alongside your other subjects.

If you are applying to Bristol as an exchange student, you can check with your home university or the Centre for Study Abroad team at Bristol to find out which programme you have been nominated to. Direct-enrol students and independent applicants can select the most relevant pathway for their English language proficiency and subject preferences.

CREATE YOUR PROGRAMME

Make the most of your time here by creating a tailored academic programme that works for you.

Study level

Undergraduate degrees in the UK are three-year programmes, and as a Study Abroad student you can choose units (classes) from all three years. Occasionally, some departments open up master's level units for Study Abroad students. You can check the full list of available units for each department in our online study guides.

bristol.ac.uk/study-abroad-units

For subjects that are new to you or that you have not studied in-depth at home, first-year units are the most suitable. Second-year units are the most common for students taking their major/minor abroad, and third-year units are suitable for students in their major subject if they are close to graduation.

Credits and course load

You will take 60 Bristol credits per semester, which is a full course load. Most units at Bristol are worth either 10 credits or 20 credits, so you will typically take three to six units per semester.

Science and Engineering subjects tend to have more 10-credit units, whereas Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences tend to have 20-credit units. Your home university will be able to advise you on how the credits transfer back to your degree.

Finding your units

Study Abroad (Subject pathway) students are required to take the majority of their units in the department to which they are nominated by their home university. Study Abroad (General pathway) students can take units across different faculties.

The terminology used at Bristol might not exactly match what you are used to at your home university. Please read the guidance on our website about how to choose your units.

Get involved

Every student at the University of Bristol is a member of Bristol Students’ Union (SU). Led by students, for students, Bristol SU is a vital part of our world-class university experience.

Bristol SU organises events, represents your views, and runs more than 350 student groups for different interests and hobbies. Joining a student group is a great way to meet new people while you are here, and Study Abroad students often say taking part really helps them settle in and make friends.

You will also be able to join the International Students’ Network, a representative body that leads campaigns, holds forums and organises social events.

Sports, exercise and health

With first-class sport and fitness facilities both on campus and in the leafy suburbs of Coombe Dingle, there are plenty of opportunities to start or maintain a healthy and active lifestyle during your time at Bristol.

Our memberships give you access to our gym, fitness classes, studios and swimming pool. You can also play sport socially or competitively by joining the B:Active programme or one of 70 student sport clubs, and if you play sport professionally, you can develop alongside your studies with our performance team. If running appeals to you more, you can join the Bristol Run Series community and follow our training plans and online support to get across the finish line at one of our events.

Health and wellbeing

Bristol’s holistic approach to wellbeing will support you to realise your full potential. Our comprehensive network of resources and student services are ready to support you if and when you need it. You can use our online Request Wellbeing Support form to contact our services.
